The 4th International Conference on Renewable Energy for Developing Countries

Beirut, Lebanon, November 1-2, 2018

REDEC 2018 is a specific scientific conference that helps in finding innovative and adequate solutions for energy saving and production in developing countries. During the first three editions, participants from across the globe have discussed the scientific issues that were presented and subsequently published in IEEE Xplore. Due to the fruitful results, the organization of REDEC 2018 has added new topics on smart grids and DC micro-grids, giving more opportunity to a wide profile of participants to present their work in the domain of renewable energy and related research. Papers written in either English or French are acceptable.

Submit the full paper using the two-column single-space IEEE template. Papers are limited to 6 full pages, including paper title, authors and affiliations, figures and references. The electronic submission in PDF format should be done through the conference website. For more information, please refer to the guidelines at www.redeconf.org. Submitted papers must represent original work, not announced, published, or presented elsewhere. All accepted papers will be published in the Conference Proceedings, and those written in English will be submitted to the IEEE Xplore Digital Library.

Topics of interest include but are not limited to:

A. Renewable Energy Resources: wind, solar, biomass, hydraulic, geothermal, waves, tidal, etc.

B. Renewable Energy Conversion: Electrical power converters, fuel cells, photovoltaic panels, heating and cooling.

C. Energy Storage: Electrical storage, hydraulic storage, thermal storage.

D. Energy Management, Saving and Efficiency: Optimal management process, control algorithms, smart grids, grid connectivity and control, DC micro-grids, green and zero consumption buildings, energy recovery, energy harvesting, standards.

E. Policies and legislation related to renewable energy: Capacity building for the needs of developing countries, mechanisms for providing energy services in rural areas.

F. Implementation of educational and research programs in the fields of renewable energy, supporting programs for renewable energy projects.

G. Hardware, software, material and physics related to Renewable Energy.
